Background

Veterinarians have a vital role in the PUBLIC HEALTH AND FOOD SAFETY. This position is reflected in all regulated areas worldwide. It is also an area of specialisation to which undergraduates get different experiences during their training.

EVERI will sponsor 2 undergraduate students, each one with up to 800 Euros to attend for 2 weeks the above course (see separate Application form and the Administration routines) in Brno – Czech Republic in 2019.

The teaching will be conducted in English and for further details on page and separate leaflet.

Management of the scheme:

1. A student who wishes to be considered for this Scheme through EVERI please complete a separate application form and send it to EVERI no later than 30 June 2019 (ems.everi@fve.org).
2. For any other enquiry regarding participation programme/dates/accommodation etc., please contact the course organisers.
